PRESS RELEASE

Thanks to Westminster: Generation Courtyard Leipzig with new housing project
Take a vacant and completely renovated building and a vision for a socially and community inclusive housing project. At Schiebestrasse 19 in Leipzig, Westminster has brought both together and offers to the Generation Courtyard Leipzig enough space for its youth residential community MOMO.

Leipzig, October 9th, 2018, Marian Ziburske, owner of the Westminster Group, is satisfied. Just recently, the German ice hockey national team sponsored by Westminster had a thrilling duel with Slovakia in Weißwasser, but this game was about more. Three adolescents from the MOMO residential project, which Westminster particularly cares about, were also present. Ziburske comments: "We are pleased to announce that the rental of a multi-family house in the Leipziger SchiebesträÙe 19 provides us with a suitable framework for the housing project with 15 adolescents and young adults and their pedagogical supervisors."

The building SchiebesträÙe 19 is located in the popular district Eutritzsch and thus in the north of the Saxon metropolis. The house was built in 1915 and had stood empty until its takeover by the Westminster Group. The purchase takes place as part of a complete real estate package from a bank utilization. In 2008, a complete renovation took place. Since then, the lovingly designed courtyard, which offers space for playing, chatting or just to linger, has been distinguishing.

The generation courtyard had long searched for a suitable location and finally found it thanks to Westminster. A spokesperson highlights the special assistance of the real estate company: "We are grateful that Westminster supports us so much. Thanks to our lease, we finally get planning security and can fully dedicate ourselves to the welfare of unaccompanied adolescents. For the implementation of our pedagogical concept, the living space of more than 500 square meters and the distribution on five floors is optimal."
